Facilitating a survivor-centered,
multidisciplinary response to human trafficking in Denver

About Us

The Denver Anti-Trafficking Alliance (DATA) is a task force of more than 40 partners, including advocacy organizations, law enforcement, and nonprofit agencies, that provide a multidisciplinary, survivor-centered response to human trafficking in Denver.

Human Trafficking

Human trafficking is the exploitation of a person through force, fraud, or coercion for the purposes of commercial sex and/or compelled labor.

Human trafficking can happen anywhere and to anyone regardless of age, background, gender, sexual orientation, socioeconomic status, nationality, race, religion, or ethnicity.

Get Involved

The DATA task force uses a trauma-informed approach to:

- facilitate trainings
- support survivors
- provide victim-centered services regardless of immigration status
- investigate allegations or suspicion of human trafficking offenses, and
- prosecute offenders

DATA welcomes new partners to the task force to assist moving our mission forward.

Training Requests

Human trafficking awareness trainings are provided free of charge. To request a training, visit www.denveralliance.org.
